

Welcome to PMAC

Allow me to introduce myself;

I am Roger Parish, founder of the Parish Arts Conservatory (PMAC), expanding to providing you with quality instructional and inspirational products, and services.

Growing up on the near eastside of Columbus, Ohio, my first experience with music was as a child in my home on a old upright piano. I went on to study several instruments and performed with several school ensembles and R&B groups as well as . After graduation from East High School (Home of the Marching Tigers) in 1975, I attended the Capital University Conservatory of Music, graduating in 1979, with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Music Education. My major studies were in trumpet. My other studies included drums, voice, piano and various brass and woodwind instruments, in addition to jazz improvisation classes and workshops featuring various international jazz recording artists. I also participated in Cap's jazz bands, wind ensemble, and orchestra.

Over the past 30 years, I have ministered through music at several churches, and taught at various public and private schools. Having worked with well over 3000 private students as well, I have written and produced a number of songs and educational materials.

I welcome you to PMAC, hoping that your experience here is as fruitful and rewarding and rewarding to you as it is to me!

Parish Musical Arts Conservatory

(PMAC)

Parish Musical Arts was founded in 1980 by the music director Roger. L. Parish. Parish was motivated to found the Parish Musical Arts Conservatory after completion of music studies at Capital University. He wanted to provide a high quality educational experience at an affordable price. At the Parish Musical Arts Conservatory, our goal is to educate, motivate, and musically inspire each of our students by exposing them to various music forms and styles. We offer the opportunity for each student to gain a general understanding of music theory, history, and composition. Each student will also learn performance etiquette and technique preparing them for higher education and various performance avenues.

“Our mission:

To inspire, motivate and educate children and adults by exposing them to music of various styles and cultural origins while providing a structured, yet personalized learning experience designed to foster a meaningful cultural experience in the arts and an understanding and appreciation for the discipline and art of music.
